R. v. Derek Dunlop
Bail Appearance

WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 5, 2012

DUTY COUNSEL: I think my friend wants to deal with Mr. Dunlop next.

MR. PARENT: Please.

ATTORNEY.

DUTY COUNSEL: Now, Mr. Dunlop will be hearing this for the first time - he requested that the Salvation Army interview him for the purposes of determining if he qualified for their program and unfortunately, he does not.

However, they also took phone numbers to contact four people who are potential sureties and all of those contacts have been made but only messages were able to be left. The woman from the Salvation Army indicated to me that she will be following up over the next day or so. So my suggestion to Mr. Dunlop is that he adjourn his bail hearing to Friday. There is a potential - the Salvation Army spoke directly to Mr. Dunlop's step-mother, explained the circumstances and also left a message for his father, because I know that that's probably the most likely potential surety. His dad lives in North Bay and so my suggestion is you adjourn your bail hearing to Friday, Mr. Dunlop.

in hospital with an incurable and inoperable cancer and terminally ill at this point. So that - that is the - that's the - the crux of the matter at this point.

THE COURT: Thank you.

DEREK DUNLOP: There's also a 12-page notice of motion that I wanted to confirm that the Crown had received. It's returnable December 10th.

✓ MR. PARENT: A 12-page?

DEREK DUNLOP: Yes.

MR. PARENT: Seeking what relief?

THE COURT: What are seeking in the application?

DEREK DUNLOP: I have a duplicate copy here.

MR. PARENT: Actually, I have it. If I can just be able to compare it.

THE COURT: An application being made on Friday?

MR. PARENT: There is - no, there is on Monday the 10th. He's already scheduled before a judge for a judicial pre-trial.

THE COURT: Oh, I see.

✓ MR. PARENT: So I suspect that he'll be attempting to argue the motion on that day and I do see a copy of it in the brief, Mr. Dunlop.

DEREK DUNLOP: Thank you very much.

THE COURT: Your matter will be spoken to on Friday. Thank you.
